

A Father and Forgiveness

-Small Group Questions-

1. To what degree have you been a forgiving father in the past? Circle the one that most closely represents your answer.
 - a. I have been a forgiving father.
 - b. I have been hesitant to forgive.
 - c. I have sometimes communicated forgiveness to my kids.
 - d. I have seldom communicated forgiveness to my kids.
 - e. I have never communicated forgiveness to my kids.

2. Did forgiveness happen in your house when you grew up? What did that look like? What is similar in your house today? What has changed?

3. What can you do this week to more effectively communicate forgiveness to your children? Be specific and list some ideas.

4. Are there any situations you need to ask forgiveness for from your kids? If yes, what are they? When will you ask?